PRESS RELEASE

Three New Publications Produced by Eastern National

FORT WASHINGTON, PA, May 8, 2014: Three new publications highlighting three distinctly different National Park Service Sites have been produced by Eastern National: Independence: The Park in Pictures, Minuteman Missile National Historic Site, and Upper Delaware in Verse and Image.

Independence: The Park in Pictures showcases the many historic locations within Independence National Historical Park, complete with beautiful color photographs and brief descriptions of each site.

Minuteman Missile National Historic Site provides historical background on the need for inter-continental ballistic missile sites stemming from the Cold War, and beginning with the 1962 Cuban Missile Crisis when millions of lives were at stake of nuclear war and humanity narrowly escaped catastrophe. This book interprets the missile sites' role in the defense of the United States, a defense that continues into the foreseeable future.

Upper Delaware in Verse and Image is a collection of Poet Mort Malkin's verses, which convey his love for Upper Delaware Scenic and Recreational River, complemented by stunning photographs by David Soete.

All three of these publications are available at their respective sites, or on www.eParks.com. For more information about these publications and other Eastern National products, visit eParks.com or call 1-877-NAT-PARK (877-628-7275). Wholesale opportunities are available.
